HEREBY DECREES

the establishment, for the academic year 2015/2016, of the II level Interuniversity Master in “Global Regulation of Markets” at the Department of Legal Sciences of the Faculty of Law of “Sapienza” University.

1 – Aims

The Master’s aim is to provide graduate students with the proper preparation for completing and improving their knowledge of the subjects relating to public administration and public regulation of global economy. It also aims at providing candidates with the adequate preparation to face public competitions for recruitment within Public Administrations, Universities, EU and International Institutions. Furthermore, the Master provides managers and officers of private and public bodies with the opportunity to revise, improve and qualify their professional tools and skills. Lastly, the Master is intended for everyone wishing to work in the sector of public regulation of global economy, for instance within institutions concerned with globalization and non-governmental organizations.

The teaching activities include a series of lectures on the fundamental topics of public regulation from an economic, ethical and legal viewpoint (some of them will be particularly devoted to economic public law) as well as a series of seminars and conferences to discuss issues of particular interest.

2 – Organization of the teaching activities

English is the official language of the Master. Some lectures, conferences and seminars as well as some practical activities may be held in other languages.

Teaching activities are held twice a week and take place at “Sapienza” University and at “LUISS Guido Carli” University, from February 2016 to December 2016. 1500 hours of total attendance are scheduled. 300 hours at least shall be dedicated to frontal lessons and 250 hours to the preparation of the final exam.

Lectures are divided into a series of modules. Each module will analyze particular topics with the aim of developing specific professional profiles. The teaching activities of the Master include frontal lectures on general and specific topics for each of the modules described above; lectures analyzing case law; conferences and seminars.

Find below the number of credits attributed to each module.

TEACHING ACTIVITIES

Module 1 – History and theories of economic regulation

Contents:

Module 1 will examine the historical development of economic regulation, chiefly the phase starting from the end of XIX century. Particular attention will be devoted to the new role of private law sources within the frame of economic regulation and to the emergence of a new “lex mercatoria”.

Credits: 3

Module 2 – Public regulation and competition in the current phase of globalization

Contents:

Module 2 will first focus the main characteristics of public regulation in the present phase of globalization, particularly: a) the necessity to justify regulation; b) the reduction of discretionary powers; c) the impact of antitrust regulation on the general frame of economic regulation; d) the emergence of a global economic law.

As for competition, the main features of antitrust law will be considered, chiefly: a) cartel prohibition; b) prohibition of monopoly and abuse of dominant position; c) prohibition of takeovers and mergers limiting competition; d) differences between antitrust systems (USA and Europe); e) the emergence of antitrust law in countries traditionally not familiar with the model of market economy (such as China); f) attempts to harmonize the antitrust discipline at global level.

Credits: 8

Module 3 - Free movement of goods and services

Contents:

Module 3 will deal with: a) global liberalization of goods and services; b) the actual means adopted by the European Union to reduce barriers to trade; c) the free trade regime adopted by the World Trade Organization (WTO); d) restrictions to free trade to protect relevant public interests (eg., protection of human health or environment).

Credits: 5

Module 4 - Transnational contracts

Contents:

Module 4 will deal with the legal systems and tools of private law which contribute to global economic regulation (e.g., so-called “private government”). Particular attention will be paid to: a) the diffusion of transnational contracts (e.g., in the financial and commercial sectors); b) the emergence of a new lex mercatoria; c) the role of the new sources of international commercial law in the drafting of transnational contracts, negotiation and dispute resolution (such as the “Unidroit Convention”).

Credits: 6

Module 5 – Financial markets regulation

Contents:

Module 5 will investigate the main characteristics of financial markets regulation in the age of globalization. Standards and non-binding practices will be analysed, mainly the instructions issued by: a) the Basel Committee; b) the International Monetary Fund (IMF); c) the World Bank; e) the European Union. Particular attention will be paid to the causes and effects of the present global financial crisis through the examination of the proposals and remedies of the Financial Stability Board and of the European Union.

Credits: 6

Module 6 - Regulation of electronic communications

Contents:

Module 6 will analyze: a) the liberalization of the electronic communications sector, which has limited monopolies worldwide and has led to the privatization of public enterprises; b) the role of national and supranational regulatory authorities; c) the impact of the opening of the Electronic Communications Market on customers in terms of reduction of prices and better quality of the products; d) the so called “technological convergence” and the necessity of a horizontal regulation covering all the networks and services of electronic communications; e) “neutrality” of the network.

Credits: 6

Module 7 - Energy regulation and environmental regulation

Contents:

Module 7 will focus on: a) the process of liberalization which has interested the sector of electricity and gas, with specific attention to the recent adoption of the so-called “third energy package”; b) the role of Energy Regulatory Authorities; c) the relationship between energy regulation and environmental regulation, with special reference to global warming; d) policies and legal tools adopted by public powers to tackle the main environmental risks (see Clean Air Act of 1970; Kyoto Protocol; Action Plan for Energy Efficiency of the EU Commission COM(2006); the new rules after Copenhagen Conference).

Credits: 6

Module 8 - Regulation in the food and pharmaceutical sector

Contents:

Module 8 will analyze the “global governance” for the regulation of the food sector, particularly: a) protection and guarantees accorded to “global consumers”; b) food security; c) food safety; d) the relationship between the international free movement of food products and local traditions and cultures.

Credits: 5

Module 9 - Ethics and regulation

Contents:

Module 9 will analyze the fundamental issue of the relationship between ethics and economics, stressing the necessity to adopt an anthropological approach which considers economic facts from an ethic viewpoint (business ethic). The following topics will be dealt with: a) Who will guard the guards?; b) the relationship between politics and administration; c) the relationship between politics and enterprises (with specific attention to the problem of the institutional independence and the conflict of interests); d) the relationship between politics and interest groups (through the analysis of lobbying activities); e) prevention of corruption.

Credits: 5

CREDITS FOR THE FINAL TEST: 10

TOTAL CREDITS: 60

Attendants' learning will be verified at the end of each module through written and/or oral exams.

Marks are out of 30. A minimum score of 18/30 is needed in order to pass the exam.

Candidates will not be able to do the exam of each module if they have not passed the exam of the previous one. Apart from exceptional cases, candidates will be able to repeat an exam only in the session for the exams of the next modules.

Candidates attending the teaching activities indicated above will achieve 60 credits to be added to the credits already assigned to the course attended to access the Master.

Lectures will start within the end of February 2016 and will finish within December 2016. The academic activities will end in January 2017.

The teaching activities will take place in Rome, both at the Faculty of Law of "Sapienza" University, Piazzale Aldo Moro 5 and at the Faculty of Law of "LUISS Guido Carli" University, via Parenzo 11.

The plan of lectures will be communicated at the beginning of the course.

Full-time attendance is compulsory and it will be checked at the beginning of each lecture (signatures will be gathered). Absence for more than 25% of the total amount of hours scheduled will lead to the impossibility for the candidate to obtain the degree.

In case of non-attendance, poor profit or any kind of misbehavior, the Scientific Board can decide for the suspension or the exclusion of the participant. In such cases fees will not be refunded.

Stages will be organized for the best candidates on the basis of the availability of firms, public and private bodies, and companies in agreement with the University. Stage activities will not be counted to reach the total amount of 60 credits necessary to obtain the Master degree and shall take place not later than 18 months after the end of the Master.

3 – Length of the master and number of participants

The Master lasts one year.

Admission is limited: the maximum number of participants is fixed at 40 (forty) students; the minimum, necessary to activate the Master, is fixed at 10 (ten) students.

4.1 - Admission of foreign students

Graduate students from foreign Universities can apply to the Master providing their title is deemed culturally coherent by the Scientific Board to be admitted to the courses and/or as a result of bilateral agreements of cooperation and mobility between Universities.

Foreign students without degree cannot be admitted under condition of obtaining the title before the application deadline has expired. They must have already obtained the academic degree before applying.

To prove the validity of their title, foreign students shall produce a “declaration of value” (“dichiarazione di valore”) released by the Italian Diplomatic Representation in the country where the degree was obtained. Said declaration is necessary to evaluate if the candidate can be admitted to the master.

4.1.1 – Participation of European citizens wherever resident, Italian citizens having an academic degree obtained abroad and non European citizens regularly resident in Italy

Candidates that are European citizens wherever resident, Italian citizens with academic degree obtained abroad and non European citizens regularly resident in Italy shall submit their application directly to the University (as indicated in this notice) and shall attach the degree obtained abroad together with a legalization of the Italian translation of the degree certificate and a declaration of value released by the Italian Diplomatic Representation in the country where the degree was obtained. Said declaration is necessary to evaluate if the candidate can be admitted to the master.

Note that the bachelor degree is an academic title that gives access only to first level masters.

4.1.2 – Participation of non European citizens with foreign residence

Candidates who are non European citizens resident abroad can apply to the Master only after having previously submitted the application and the degree certificate to the Italian Diplomatic Representations abroad, which will transmit them to the University.

If a declaration of value is not produced, the payment forms as well as the degree certificate will not be issued.

Note that the bachelor degree is an academic title that gives access only to first level masters.

4.2 – Conditionally admitted students

Final-year students from Sapienza University can be admitted to the Master under the condition that they promptly communicate the degree attainment within 29 January 2016.

Final-year students from other Italian Universities shall communicate the degree attainment within 29 January 2016.

Conditionally admitted students will not benefit from any reduction/facilitation (granted on the basis of the admission assessment).

4.3 – Admission of students as auditors

Candidates with degree obtained under the conditions laid down in art. 2 of the present notice, willing to improve their knowledge of particular topics and enrich their professional skills, can be admitted as auditors. They will attend only the modules they choose (at least for 20 credits). At the end of the selected modules, they will be granted an attendance certificate signed by the Director of the Master.

5 – Incompatibility

Applicants are not allowed to attend other courses, of whatever nature, of Italian or foreign Universities and Institutions. There is no incompatibility with High Formation Courses (see art. 9 of the “Manifesto Generale degli Studi”, a.a. 2015/2016 of Sapienza University of Rome).

6 – Access to the Master

Candidates applying to the Master shall follow the instructions indicated below.

6.1 – Registration to the University Information System (INFOSTUD)

Registration to the University Information System (INFOSTUD) is necessary to apply to the Master. Instructions can be found on INFOSTUD web page www.uniroma1.it/studenti/infostud.

After completing the on-line registration, the system will give a registration number (“matricola”), which shall be indicated in the application form.

Former students from Sapienza University do not need a new registration. They should be in possession of their own registration number, which they shall indicate in the application form.

For all information contact CIAO at the following address:
P.le Aldo Moro, 5 – “Rettorato” building (behind “Aula Magna”)
Opening from Monday to Friday from 9.30 to 17.00
E-mail: ciao@uniroma1.it
Web page: www.uniroma1.it/ciao

6.2 – Participation fee and stamp tax

Candidates applying to the Master shall pay a fee amounting to € 35,00 in order to be admitted to the selection test, plus a stamp tax of € 16,00. Payment can be done in any branch of the UNICREDIT – BANCA DI ROMA all over the national territory, within the deadline indicated in this notice.

The total amount of € 51,00 can also be paid on line by credit card DINERS, VISA, MASTERCARD (see <http://www.uniroma1.it/studenti/tasse/pagamenti.php>).

Payment can be done using the personalized form which can be printed through the university informative system - INFOSTUD (www.uniroma1.it/studenti/infostud). Once there, select:

TASSE – PROVA DI ACCESSO - inserire il codice del corso: 27679 - AVANTI - STAMPA.

If the minimum number of applicants is not reached and no selection is performed, only said fee of € 35,00 will be refunded, after written communication from the Director of the Master has been sent to the competent sector of the University.

6.3 – Application procedure

Application can be submitted on plain paper using the form attached to this notice (annex 1), along with the following documents:

- signed and clearly readable copy of a valid identity document (I.C. - Passport);
- copy of the tax code;
- copy of the receipt of the participation fee;
- copy of the degree certificate, including list of exams and marks, or, alternatively, a self-certification in accordance to Presidential Decree no. 445 of 28.12.2000 stating that copy of the degree certificate will be subsequently transmitted;
- copy of the “Declaration of value” (“Dichiarazione di valore”) for students who have obtained the degree abroad;
- curriculum vitae et studiorum;
- authorization to treatment of personal data (annex 3);
- any other title or certificate which can be assessed for the merit ranking.

The application form must be signed by the candidate.

Incomplete application forms will not be accepted.

The application form together with the documents listed above shall be sent by registered mail or hand delivery before and not later than 27 January 2016 at the following address: Director of the Master Prof. Marco D'Alberti, University of Rome "La Sapienza", Faculty of Law, Section of Public Law, P.le Aldo Moro 5 - 00185 Rome.

In the case of applications submitted via mail, the date taken into consideration for the validity of the application is the one proved by the stamp put by the University Administration at the time of the delivery and not the sending day. The candidate who choose that way of submission assumes the risk of a late delivery.

Hand delivery of the application can be performed in the following days and hours:

Organizational Secretary of the Master

Faculty of Law, Section of Public Law;

Address: P.le Aldo Moro 5 - 00185 Rome;

Days: Monday to Friday from 9.00 a.m. to 1.00 p.m.; Tuesday and Thursday from 9.00 a.m. to 4.00 p.m.

The course code must be indicated on the envelope: 27679.

Applications submitted after the deadline indicated in this notice (27 January 2016) will not be accepted.

7 – Selection procedure: times and modality

Admission to the master is conditioned by a previous assessment of the academic degree in order to verify the validity of the title in respect of the level of the Master and of the degree classes.

Candidates without the appropriate degree will not be admitted. A "Declaration of value" is necessary in case of degree obtained abroad to prove the validity of the title. Requisites for the admission to the Master must be possessed before the application deadline has expired. The "Declaration of value" must be attached to the application form.

Candidates will undergo a selection, consisting of an interview, to verify general knowledge and skills. The interview will focus on the candidate's titles and experiences and will also test his/her English knowledge.

The selection will take place on 2 February 2016, at 9.00 a.m. at the Faculty of Law of Sapienza University, Department of Legal Sciences, Piazzale Aldo Moro, 5, 00185 Roma.

The selection test will be evaluated by a Commission composed of three professors of the Master, appointed by the Scientific Board.

The results will be published at the end of the selection. Candidates will be ranked in descending order according to the mark obtained.

Such classification, approved by the Scientific Board, will be published in the news section of the Master website (www.globalregulation.uniroma1.it) and in the website of Sapienza University (<http://www.uniroma1.it/didattica/offertativa/master>) at least 20 days earlier than the first deadline for the fee payment specified in the following paragraph.

The publication has official value and is addressed to all the interested candidates. No personal communication will be sent.

8 – Modality of the registration to the Master

Only candidates who have passed the selection test will be able to continue their registration to the Master.

Registration to the Master is performed only after candidates have paid the registration fee amounting to € 5.000,00 (five thousand).

The registration fee can be paid:

- in a single solution;
- in two installments: the first of € 2.500,00 before 3 March 2016 and the second one of € 2.500,00 before 31 May 2016.

Payment shall be done using the payment form which can be printed through INFOSTUD website <https://stud.infostud.uniroma1.it/> using the personal registration number and password. Instructions to be followed:

“TASSE” - IMMATRICOLAZIONE

MASTER/SPECIALIZZAZIONE - inserire il codice del corso: 27679 - AVANTI – STAMPA.

After having printed the payment document, the payment can be done in any branch of the UNICREDIT – BANCA DI ROMA all over the national territory as follows:

- by cash (see: <http://www.uniroma1.it/> alla voce “Tasse”> “Pagamenti”);
- on line, by credit card Visa, Mastercard, Diners, on the website <http://www.uniroma1.it/studenti/tasse/pagamenti.php>; please check you have received the prove of payment.

- by check made out to Gruppo UniCredit – Banca (UniCredit Group – Bank) if the candidate has an account in the same bank or in any other bank over the national territory;
- by check made out by a third person on behalf of the candidate.

The registration fee will be refunded only and exclusively if the Master will not be activated. Candidates shall submit formal request to the Director of the Master.

Candidates admitted as auditors shall pay a fee amounting to € 700,00 for each selected module plus a single University fee of € 700,00. The total amount shall be paid in a single solution within the terms established by the Director of the Master. They shall not pay the participation fee.

9 – Funds and/or scholarships

Whereas the Master obtains appropriate funds from public or private bodies, those might be used in order to partially or totally pay the amount of the registration fee according to the results of the selection test and following the merit ranking established by the Scientific Board.

If the student has a personal sponsor or employer who will pay for the Master for the student, the procedure shall be approved by the Director of the Master. Payments shall be done in one solution by the second deadline above mentioned. Payments made after the deadline will be charged as following.

10 – Delay in payment of the registration fee

Candidates that will duly pay the registration fee within the terms indicated in the present notice will be regularly registered and insured.

Candidates that will not be able to complete the registration before the deadline has expired will not be admitted. A delayed registration can be admitted only under the authorization of the Director of the Master and after the registration of the candidates that have regularly paid.

In such case, delay in payment will result in an extra fee for the amount of € 63,00 per each single installment. Whereas the payment is performed 60 days after the deadline indicated in this notice, the extra fee for the delay will amount to € 126,00 per each single installment.

The form, including the extra fee for the delayed payment, will be prepared by the competent Sector after written authorization of the Director of the Master.

Final-year students admitted “with reservation” shall pay the registration fee after they have obtained the degree without any extra fee.

11 – Mobility

Passage or transfer from a Master course to another is not allowed.

12 – Waiver

Candidates admitted to the Master who subsequently decide to renounce shall give written communication to the Director of the Master. The registration fees will not be refunded.

13 – Fee for the final exam

Before and in order to take the final exam, candidates shall pay a fee of € 70,00 using the downloadable form from the website www.uniroma1.it/studenti/infostud, by inserting the personal registration number and password. Instructions to be followed:

- TASSE – DIRITTI DI SEGRETERIA – tipo di bollettino: selezionare l'opzione esame finale Master – inserire l'anno 2016

- inserire il codice del corso: 27679– AVANTI – STAMPA.

Please notice that the payment document contains a date which for the bank payment is equivalent to the deadline date.

Candidates who have not yet taken the final exam and must enroll into another course for the following academic year, shall pay anyway the fee for the final exam before registering to the other course.

14 - AlmaLaurea survey

Before taking the final exam, the student must compulsorily fill the AlmaLaurea survey, with the following procedure.

The student who does not have a CV in the AlmaLaurea database must register on the webpage: <https://www.almalaurea.it/lau/registrazione/>

The student who already have a CV in the AlmaLaurea database must add the Master title to his/her profile, on the page AlmaGo! (section “studenti e laureati”), following this procedure:

Log in with his/her data;

Click on Aggiungi un titolo di studio;

Follow the procedure Inserisci titolo;

Select Prossimo al conseguimento del titolo;

Select the course location and the University of the course;

Select the data of the course and proceed.

In order to fill the final survey, after adding the title, going back at the AlmaGo! Page and in the section “my titles” click on the icon “Compila il questionario” next to the course title.

After filling the survey it is necessary to print the receipt which must be given to the Administration of the Master before the final exam.

In case of troubles in the registration process you can write to the address:

servizio.laureati@almalaurea.it or call the toll free number 800/720772.

15 – Degree attainment

At the end of the course candidates will undergo a final test to attain the degree. They will discuss a thesis on one of the topics analyzed during the course. The final test will take place within January 2016.

In order to be admitted to the final test, candidates must: have attended the Master; have achieved the necessary number of credits; have regularly paid the admission fee and the tax for the final exam.

The thesis will be discussed before a Commission. Marks for the final thesis are expressed out of 110 with 66/110 as the minimum mark to obtain the degree. With unanimous vote the Commission can agree to add cum laude.

The Master degree is granted by “Sapienza” University of Rome in collaboration with “LUISS Guido Carli” University after the regular position of the candidate has been verified.

The final mark is not indicated in the degree certificate. Only “full marks and honors” (“magna cum laude”) will be indicated. The degree certificate will be given by the Director of the Master.
